.... FOR

Ladies, Misses and Children.

New Short Coats with Fitted or Loose Backs
New 3/4 Length Coats Half Fitting or Monte Carlo Style.

New Rain Coats and Walking Skirts.
New Waists and Knit Sweaters.

Our buyer is just home from New York and can give you valuable information as to the style of coat to buy. It is immaterial to us, as we have all styles, but we are better able to advise you because we keep in close touch with the market and know what is right. We have coats for $2.98, 4.50, 7.50, 10.00, 12.50, 15.00, 17.50, 20.00 and 25.00.

Large and Elegant Stock of Walking Skirts at a Bargain.

We had an opportunity to buy of a well established firm who were going out of this branch of their business. An all wool, new style, fine fitting Walking Skirt at half price. It has always sold for $5.00. Our price, while they last, only $3.50. We can get no more of them. A few of those $15.00 Suits as advertised last week at $5.98.

GREAT EXHIBITION OF FURS

will meet with Mrs. A. B. Noyes on Saturday afternoon of this week at 3 o'clock.

—One of the gates on the St. J. & L. C. tracks at the Portland street crossing was blown down Saturday night and broken.

—Those who are to take part in the King Jollity are requested to meet Prof.
Wales at the Y. M. C. A. hall this evening at 7.30.

—Instead of November 1, as mentioned last week the Mutual Life Insurance Co's office here will not be given up until December 1.

—Brown's block on Main street has been greatly improved by a new coat of paint and the removal of the roof over the sidewalk.

—At the meeting of the State Teachers' association at Bellows Falls last week, Principal C. H. Dempsey was elected vice president.

—C. S. McGown conducted the services at the Y. M. C. A. at Lewiston, Me., Sunday afternoon and Mrs. Ethel Galbraith Stiles sang.

—Mrs. L. E. Darling has opened an art studio in Miss L. M. Morse's block on Eastern Avenue in the store formerly occupied by Rickaby & Co.

—Miss Laura M. Chadbourn has recovered from her severe illness and resumed her duties as teacher at the Summer street school building.

—Nettie E. Spencer of Lyndon has filed a petition in insolvency with liabilities of $916 and assets of $480, of which $460 are claimed exempt.

—Olive Branch Rebekah Lodge I. O. O.
F. will have a Halowen party in Odd Fellows hall Friday evening Oct. 31, for members and their families.

—The Ladies of the Star Light Club of the South church will entertain the gentlemen of the church in the church parlors next Tuesday evening.

—Arthur F. Stone spoke on Arizona, New Mexico and the Grand Canon of the Colorado, at the October meeting of the Round Table of the South Church, Monday evening.

—There will be a social dance in the Jr. O. U. A. M. hall Thursday evening, to which all are cordially invited. This is the first of a series of dances to be given in the near future.

—The ladies of the Methodist church served a chicken pie dinner Friday evening, and despite the unfavorable weather a good number were present and a fine supper was served.

—Complaint has been made that the mail boxes on rural free delivery routes are being used by distributors of circulars.
This is a direct violation of the postal laws and is punishable by a fine.

—The friends of Charles E. Morrill, now of Barton who was for so many years employed in the packing room at the scale shops will regret to learn that he is very low and his recovery doubtful.

—A representative of a large fur house in New York will exhibit an immense stock of furs at the Brooks-Tyler store next week Tuesday and Wednesday, taking measures and giving general information as to durability and quality and the proper care and treatment of furs.

—Ex-Gov. Josiah Grout has been appointed by the judge of the probate court, administrator of the estate of Gen. W. W. Grout, and L. D. Hazen and Horace W. Bailey of Newbury, commissioners.

—The first reception of the school year at the Academy will be given Friday evening by the senior class, and the committee have arranged a novel and pleasing program for the entertainment of their guests.

—"It was better than ever" is a good deal to say of the famous clam chowder supper served by the ladies of the Universal church, but this is the verdict of those who patronized the first one of the season, last Thursday.

—The next regular meeting of Clover Temple, No. 1, R. S., will be held in Pythian hall Monday evening, Nov. 3. A full attendance is desired, as there will be renewals. After the meeting light refreshments will be served.

—Dr. John M. Allen has purchased a Stanley automobile of the latest type.
It was run up from Lowell, Mass., by Mr. Mussey of that city, who remained here a few days to teach the doctor how to be his own chauffeur.

—W. H. Sargent took some photographs of the very vivid chain lightning which was witnessed on Sunday evening, October 19, one of which has been exhibited in the window of Mrs. Flora Rowell's store and has attracted much attention.

—Mrs. Florence Kelley, secretary of the National Consumers' League, will give a lecture here Tuesday evening, Nov. 25. Quite a number of our townpeople have heard her, and all speak very enthusiastically of her talk. Every one is invited to the lecture.

—The tools used in the forging work on the Dupont hammers, now manufactured by E. & T. Fairbanks & Co., have been moved from the Hines shop to P.
D. Dupont's shop on Granite Square this week and Mr. Dupont will forge the hammer arms there for the company.

—Col. O. H. Henderson, commander of the 1st Regt. Patriarchs Militant, was there November 14 in connection with a meeting of Odd Fellows of the 8th district.

—The annual food sale of the Woman's Association of the North church will be held next Tuesday in the church parlors during the afternoon and evening. At that time the North Church Cook Book will be on sale together with articles cooked from some of the recipes in the book.

—One hundred and eight new names were added to the cash customer list of the Merchants' Association at the regular meeting last week and five names were removed. Secretary Bagley has distributed a convenient display card with St. Johnsbury names for the benefit of local members.

—Prof. Wales of Brattleboro, who is pleasantly remembered here through his production of Kermis a few years ago, was in town last week and made arrangements to present the comic opera, "King Jollity," by local talent for the benefit of the band. It will be presented during the week of November 17.

—The exterior of the new school building at Newport, of which A. L. Bragg is the contractor, is practically finished and the plastering will soon be completed. The original called for finishing only two floors but it has been decided to finish the third floor and Mr.
Bragg has taken an additional contract for this work.

—The first of a series of smoke talks before Co. D. will occur at G. A. R. H.
Hall this evening at eight o'clock when Capt. Henry W. Hovey, 24th U. S. Infantry, now instructor of Military Science at Norwich University, will present have been extended to a few outside friends of the Company.

—H. L. Doyle formerly landlord of the Avenue House, now of Hotel Low at Bradford has bought Hotel Look Off at Sugar Hill, New Hampshire. The property is said to represent an investment of nearly $90,000, and is in almost perfect condition. Mr. Doyle paid $13,000. The house has been open the past summer and did a business of nearly $25,000, being well filled with guests most of the season.

—The business men and other friends of Lanebrd Folsom will give him a complimentary banquet at the Avenue House, Thursday evening. Mr. Folsom has many friends here and on the road who will be glad to show their appreciation of his efforts to run a first-class hostelry. The hotel has been well patronized under his management and Mr. and Mrs. Folsom leave the Avenue House with best wishes from all for continued success.

THROUGH THE SCALE WORKS.

Some Improvements the Business Men Saw Last Thursday.

By invitation of Manager Turner about 75 of the business and professional men of the town were taken through the scale factory last Thursday morning and it was a revelation to all to see the many improvements that have been made there. A few years ago there were 500 men employed there and today there are almost a thousand, while the finished product for 1902 will reach over 100,000 scales of the smallest drug scale to the 200 ton railroad track scale. In addition to the scales the corporation will manufacture this year a large quantity of brass valves and injectors and the Fairbanks power hammers. Some idea of the raw material consumed for such an output may be realized when it is stated that it will take about 1,000,000 pounds of copper to supply this year's demand and 50 tons of iron are melted daily at the foundry.

This increase in business has been owing in part to the general increase in our national prosperity and also to large foreign orders. There is not a civilized nation on the face of the globe today that does not use Fairbanks scales and a recent order from Russia calls for the manufacture of scales of all kinds to the amount of several hundred thousand dollars.

To provide for this rapid and gratifying increase in business a number of improvements have been made at the factory and new buildings erected in some cases. At the iron foundry three new cupolas have been installed for melting the iron and with the overhead crane system of transporting the molten metal 100,000 pounds of iron can be handled with ease as well as economy that was hardly dreamed of in former years.

The latest addition to the plant is the brass foundry which is without doubt the finest brass foundry in New England.
It has ground dimensions of 50 by 150 feet and is located east of the iron foundry.
On the east side is a core room 36 by 60 feet and another room of the same dimensions.

In the centre of the room are located the furnaces resting on a large iron platform from which the ashes and debris drop to the large cellar. By the side of the furnaces are three Schwarz furnaces, the latest invention for melting brass.
To an outsider they look like huge ten-kets and out of the snout comes the forced draft which is carried up the chimney. These furnaces use crude oil for fuel and the oil is heated by steam and blown into the furnace by a fan. Though the Schwarz furnaces have been in use but a few weeks they are giving great satisfaction and doing a lot of work.
The molten brass is to be supplied to the moulders by an overhead track, the same as in the iron foundry. Along the centre of the room are five vats of water where an interesting process is constantly going on of blowing out the cores from the valves. In the core room the girls are busily engaged making sand cores and after the brass has been poured around the cores and thoroughly hardened the moulder plunges the casting into the water and with a loud explosion the sand is all blown out of the valves. Formerly this was done by a knife, but now the cold water does it all.
The brass foundry is splendidly lighted and the floor is concreted. At the south end of the building are the rooms for the workmen, and a balcony for the use of the girls during the noon hour in warm weather.

Between the two foundries is a solid brick building for the boiler and engine where a hundred horse power boiler and an engine of like capacity can furnish power for all the shops below the bridge.
But this power will only be used in an emergency as all the power for the foundries and pattern shop is obtained from the St. Johnsbury Electric Co. being transmitted from the power house and distributed through many motors.

The principal addition to the big machine shop is the sight of a number of finished and unfinished Fairbanks trip hammers. This is the latest addition to the corporation's output and the firm are making excellent hammers and placing them on the market as fast as the demand can be supplied.

The changes in the rest of the shops have been noted from time to time in the columns of the CALEDONIAN, though to most of the men who were personally escorted through the factory it was a revelation that there had been so many changes and that so much business was being done. It is always a matter of local pride that the town has within its borders the largest scale factory in the world and is especially gratifying that the relations between the corporation and the citizens have been so pleasant.
A corporation whose plant, including i finished and unfinished product will in ventory at over $2,000,000 and whose monthly pay-roll to its employees exceeds $48,000 is an important factor in a town's growth and material prosperity, and it is especially true in this case that what helps the factory in its well-deserved growth is equally advantageous to every one in St. Johnsbury.

St. Johnsbury City.

The city charter committee has been busy with their task the past week and as soon as some surveying and other necessary work can be done the bill will be in readiness to present to the legislature. The exact limits of the city will not be determined for a few days, but roughly stated, the line will begin at a point on the Waterford line beyond Charles Higgins' farm and will extend in as direct a route as possible to the borders of Danville, probably near the Fish Hatchery. All of the town south of this line will be included in the city limits. The laying out of wards has been a rather difficult matter, and according to present plans there will be six with these boundaries.

Ward 1, Summerville, Ward 2, Paddock Village and a portion of North Railroad street. Ward 3, will include the territory compassed by a line extending along the middle of Pearl street and Warren Avenue from Spruce street to Sleepers River, down Sleepers to the Passumpsic, up this stream to the Paddock Village bridge thence to Spruce street. Ward 4, will begin at the corner of Spruce street and Warren Avenue, down Main street to Railroad, up North Railroad to city limits thence to point on Danville line west of Winter street, thence along Winter to Main, Maple to Pearl, Pearl and Warren Avenue to Spruce. Ward 5, will begin at corner of Maple and Pearl and extend along Pearl to Eastern avenue, to Main street to Western avenue to point west of Webster street on Danville line, thence along Winter and Maple streets to point of beginning.
Ward 6 will include Fairbanks Village, South Park and all the territory south of a line drawn from the corner of Wards 4 and 5 on the Danville line along Western avenue, Main street, Eastern avenue, Pearl street, Railroad street, down Sleepers River and the Passumpsic to the Waterford line.

Some changes may be made in these lines when a more careful census is taken of the different wards.

After a charter is granted by the legislature it will be submitted to the residents of the proposed city for their acceptance or rejection. If it is adopted by them it will then be submitted for final action to the voters of St. Johnsbury, both of the proposed city and the town.

The Change at the Avenue House.

As announced last week the Avenue House changes hands on Saturday when the syndicate of traveling men assume the management. It is the hope of the syndicate to make the Avenue House one of the best known hosteries in the state and the people of St. Johnsbury will be glad to co-operate with them to bring this about. E. W. Eastman, who travels for the well-known grocery firm of Twitcheil, Champlin & Co. of Portland and Boston, will be the manager and will be here every Sunday, and often as the business requires. Mr. Haley, the head clerk at the Oxford at Fryeburg, Me., will be the resident manager and head waiter. Willard Burrell comes here as assistant to Mr. Haley and will also have charge of the books. Mrs. Green, who has been matron at the Kearsage at North Conway this summer, comes here to fill a similar position under the new management and everything in her department will be carefully looked after.
The friends of Mr. Bledgett will be glad to know that he will remain as night clerk and Jack Bertrand will attend to the traveller's baggage with his usual faithfulness.

New Coal Dealers.

M. J. Hovey has decided to go into the coal business which he will conduct in connection with his ice business. He has already ordered a large supply of coal and has made arrangements to use the Standard Oil Company's side track near his house as a distributing point for the season, and next year intends to erect coal sheds near the Hastings street bridge. Mr. Hovey expects that his first shipment of coal will arrive in about three weeks from Burlington. He will go to that city Friday on business connected with the deal.

Joseph Gauthier and Thomas Rickaby are also making arrangements to engage in selling both wood and coal.
They own the blacksmith shop and vacant lot at the east end of the Portland street bridge and expect to begin the erection of a coal shed 120x36 with a capacity of 2000 tons, at once. A side track from the St. J. & L. C. tracks will be put in.

St. Johnsbury Choral Union.

The first meeting of the Choral Union will be held in the Museum Tuesday evening, November 4, at 7.30 o'clock.
The executive committee have laid out plans for the winter which will insure a rare treat to the music loving public and excellent instruction for those who sing.
It is proposed to take up Gounod's opera of Faust, the Song of Victory by Hiller, Hawthorne's Wedding Feast by Coleridge-Taylor, some popular opera and a work for ladies' voices, closing the winter's work with a convention unsurpassed in the history of the society.

Professor Blaisdel will be present at the first rehearsal next Tuesday evening, and it is hoped that any persons wishing to enroll themselves as members will be present. The officers of the society are F. H. Brooks, president; C. H. Dempsey, vice president; C. H. Horton, secretary; G. E. Woods, treasurer; W. C. Tyler, B. Frank Harris, C. H. Turner, Miss M.
C. Goodwin, Miss Katherine Dougan, executive committee.
